

Landmark College's Guide to Assessing College Readiness

For parents of college-bound students who learn differently

Landmark College has identified five fundamental skills which are essential for success in college. There are five questions for each of the five skill areas. It is scored by simply adding the number of yes answers for each skill area. The scoring guide includes discussion points for each of these skill areas, along with programs at Landmark College to support these developing skills. While this guide was developed by and for Landmark College, it is easily generalized to readiness for any higher education institution.

This guide is meant to start the conversation about the skills which a student might be lacking. It is NOT designed to determine whether or not a student should go to college.
